

A close-up shot of Chewbacca's face, looking directly at the camera with a slight, confident smirk. He is positioned in what appears to be the cockpit of a spacecraft, with various control panels, dials, and a window visible in the background. The lighting is dramatic, highlighting the texture of his brown fur.

A close-up, slightly low-angle shot of Chewbacca's face. He has a serious, almost somber expression, with his eyes looking down and to the side. His brown fur is highly detailed, showing individual strands. The background is out of focus, showing what appears to be the interior of a vehicle or a control room with some metallic structures and a bright light source in the upper left.

What is the problem this feature will solve?

If the test runner is used for some integration, or end-2-end testing, there tends to be some flakiness because of the more complex setup relying on the stability of not just the tests, but also the environment that tests are running against.
